

ness in big mules and rich soil was shown to be, not of that character, which adds perpetuity to our state or national fame, but is only temporary in its relation to the world and race's progress. Ransacking the history of ancient and medieval times, his oratory became eloquent in its demonstrations of what real and lasting greatness consists. His final appeal was to the laboring masses, that they appreciate the importance of educational development as their own salvation, in enabling them to cope with the world in the protection of their own interests, aside from the enjoyment to be derived from the cultivation of talents bestowed by our Maker.

Howell-Worrell.

The wedding in the parlors at Hotel Hurt on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, was a very pretty one, the contracting parties being Mr. G. F. Dowell, a highly respected and wealthy farmer and trader of Curryville, Mo., and Miss Rita Worrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Worrell, living near Ayres. Rev. J. F. Kemper performed the impressive ceremony and joined the handsome couple for life.

The bride a pretty brunette, was gowned in white cassimere en traine, with trimmings of white chiffon, a sash of white ribbon and many tiny bows of white satin ribbon. A large white picture hat, white gloves and white slippers made up this pretty costume.

Miss Hattie Duncan, the only attendant, a pretty blonde, wore white muslin with many tucks and ruffles white hat with pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowell left in their carriage immediately after the ceremony for Ayres, and will be at home to their friends after June 1, on their fine farm near Curryville, Mo. The REPUBLICAN joins with the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dowell, in wishing for them a long life of prosperity.

Off for Denver.

K. K. Mayer, who has for a number of years held the position of book-keeper in the New York store in this city, left Monday morning for Denver, where he has accepted a position as book-keeper with the Kurer Pickle Company.

Karl has grown up in Marshall, and by his close application to business, his kind and courteous treatment of both old and young, has won for himself the popularity he so deservedly receives. His is a noble type of manhood that will make friends wherever he may go. The REPUBLICAN joins with a host of friends in wishing him success in his new position.

W. L. Andrews Returns From Africa.

W. L. Andrews, of Miami, arrived in Marshall Saturday from New York city on his return from South Africa, where he went with a shipment of mules for the British government. He gave an interesting account of the voyage home, having been shipwrecked, losing everything he had, among which were some valuable relics of the British-Boer war. Mr. Andrews reports very little fighting in the portion of the country visited by him.

Runaway on Arrow Street.

On Sunday night, about 9:30 o'clock, there was a runaway on East Arrow street that caused considerable excitement. Forest Orear had just returned from a drive and was standing on the walk, with the lines in his hand, when the horse from some unknown cause became frightened and started on a mad run down Arrow street, dragging Mr. Orear some distance, but finally breaking loose from him altogether. When in front of J. L. Woodbridge's house, the buggy struck a telephone post, landing it almost on top of the fence, while the horse was thrown some distance and fell on Dr. Brown's curb stone on the opposite side of the street and seemed considerably the worse for his escapade. The buggy was considerably damaged, being minus a wheel, shaft and bar.

Fortunately the hour was late, or undoubtedly some of the children who play up and down this street in the evening would have been killed.

Allegrezza Reception.

Mrs. W. A. Beatty and Miss Georgie Montague were at home in a very agreeable way to the Allegrezza Club and other friends on Friday afternoon, May 25th, at the home of the former on Capitol Hill. The absence of everything conventional and formal added greatly to the enjoyment of the gathering.

Conspicuous among the ladies who had their hats off and assisted the hostess, were Mesdames A. B. Stewart, Aubrey Conway, Robert Reynolds, Misses Louise Noble, Stella Hicks and Lennie Montague. This charming group of ladies were untiring in their attentions to the guests and the afternoon was one of real enjoyment. Roses, peonies and pink clover were generously used throughout the rooms. Master Clarence Beatty served punch during the first hours and Miss Louise Noble presided during the remainder of the afternoon. We must say that we have never seen more delicious punch anywhere.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Charles Potter, the date to be announced later.

Missouri Pacific Excursion

Mrs. Isabella Barnhill.

Mrs. Isabella Pleasant Barnhill was born in Oldham county, Ky., Dec. 25, 1826; died at the residence of her son-in-law, E. G. Dawes, on Highland at 4:50 o'clock Wednesday morning. She was the daughter of John and Catharine B. Sibley, and on May 11, 1848, was married to the late John Barnhill, also of Kentucky.

When she was 13 years old, she was converted to God during a meeting held by Rev. Fielding Bell of the Methodist church. She connected herself with the Southern Methodist church and ever after, remained true to her church and her God. She never lived in a community where she failed to make friends of all who knew her. Three children survive this devoted mother—J. W. Barnhill, Mrs. E. G. Dawes and Miss Kate Barnhill, all of this city.

The funeral was held at the residence of E. G. Dawes at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Rev. J. W. Howell conducting the services. Burial at Ridge Park cemetery.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family.

OOM PAUL KRUGER HAS NOT SURRENDERED

The panic of 1900 will be more distressing than '98 unless the people learn to save their worldly goods. Then the question is asked, "How to save this?" It is not by the catching of Aginaldo nor the Surrender of Oom Paul Kruger.

nor the naval demonstration of the United States before Turkey, but by getting your dental work done by the
